The Inside Story

After a season long struggle, the Amador Valley High School basketball team finally reached the number one ranking in the East Bay. The Dons, who have a 12-3 record (3-0 in league play) slipped past Oakland into the number one spot. See Sports, page 8.

Deadly aftermath

Pleasanton policemen examine the body of motorcyclist Joseph Kundert, 23, of San Leandro, following a head-on crash into a car driven by Joseph Robertson, 17, of San Ramon. The collision occured Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Stoneridge Drive and Springdale Avenue. Kundert's body had to be removed by city firemen from between the door and quarter panel of the auto. Motorist Robertson suffered back lacerations and was treated and released at Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek. Also injured in the accident was a second motorcyclist, Robert Brown, 19, of San Leandro. Brown had a dislocated left shoulder and underwent surgery yesterday at Valley Memorial Hospital for a broken left ankle. According to witnesses, cyclists Kundert and Brown were eastbound on Stoneridge Drive at a high rate of speed. Robertson, northbound on Springdale Avenue, was turning westbound on Stoneridge Drive, according to police.

Report supports plans for big sewage plant

By PAT WIDDER

PLEASANTON — The City of Pleasanton has consistently maintained an eight million gallon sewage treatment plant will not be sufficient for its needs.

In fact, according to figures released Monday night, the city will require an 8.8 million gallon plant to serve its commitments through 1987.

Those figures were compiled by city staff and Kennedy Engineers at the request of the State Water Resources Control Board and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The report took nearly two months to prepare and was presented to the city council in a special session Monday night.

The commitments referred to in the 40-page report are not "general planning in the hills," said City Manager Bill Edgar, but are commitments the city is legally obligated to fulfill.

They include: The properties that were a part of the 1972 Settlement Agreement, the 463 single-family and multiple units owned by Morrison Homes which an Alameda County Superior Court judge ordered the city to provide service for, outstanding annexation agreements, existing improved lots and vacant trailer spaces, septic tanks and holding tanks, the Alameda County Fairgrounds, Kaiser Center for Technology, Pleasanton Greens, final tract maps, Happy Valley, Castlewood and tentative subdivision maps.

In addition the report includes expected capacity that will be needed to service existing zoning, assessment districts, mutual benefit districts and future annexations.

Not all of those commitments will be effective by 1987. However, by 1997, the report indicates the city will require a sewage trestment plant capable of treating 12.2 million gallons a day.

City Attorney Ken Scheidig indicated some of those commitments will most likely be litigated. But, he added, the figures in the report are based on "what we know right now."

The figures, 8.8 mgd by 1987 and 12.2 mgd by 1997, do not include any service commitments in the Dublin - San Ramon area. The Valley Community Services District staff is preparing a separate report on outstanding commitments north of Interstate 580 and those figures should be available by Thursday.

The EPA and state water board have stated in the past a plant expansion to anything more than 6.5 mgd may not be eligible for funding and also may violate the EPA's environmental standards with regard to air quality. Assistant City Manager Al Campbell said a meeting with officials from those agencies has been scheduled for later this week. It remains to be seen if the figures released Monday night will have any effect on the positions of the EPA and water board.

Voter registration deadline nears

Voter registration booths will be set up throughout the Valley this week as the Sunday, Feb. 2 deadline approaches.

Those who need to register are citizens who did not vote in the November elections as well as those residents new to the area or who have changed their address since the last election.

Citizens who do register this coming week will be able to vote after 30 days, thus enabling them to participate in the March 4 and May 27 elections, — although not in the special primary election Feb. 4 for the 15th Assembly District seat, vacated by the death of Carlos Bee.

(Voters who have merely changed their address may vote in all three elections.)

Livermore residents may register at City Hall through Friday. Also, a special booth will be set up at the Livermore library tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.. Saturday and Sunday, special booths will be placed at the Safeway Store, Alpha Beta Store and Lucky's at the Granada Center. Weekend booth hours are from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

In Pleasanton, residents may register at the Civic Center and all fire stations. A booth will be set up at the Safeway Store from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Dublin residents may register at the fire stations either on Donohue Drive or Fircrest Court.

On the ballot for the March 4 election is the 15th Assembly District seat run-off and school board elections for the Livermore Valley and San Ramon Valley Joint Unified School Districts; Amador Valley Joint Union and Pleasanton Joint Elementary School Districts, and Murray and Sunol Glen Elementary School Districts.

In a special May 27 election, Valley Community Services District voters will decide on a tax increase while Sunol Glen Elementary School District voters will consider a base revenue increase.

A lease-lease purchase plan for school building construction also is being considered for placement on the May 27 ballot by San Ramon school district trustees. The matter is pending.

Pregnant girls brought together

Special class clears hurdle

By PAT KENNEDY

Dan Johnson was trying to be very precise in describing a new program for pregnant students.

"Attendance is very irregular," the Alameda County special education chief explained.

"It's a self - terminating condition."

Chuckles from the audience.

He pressed on. "So, you don't ordinarily have the same students at the end of the year that you started with."

Howls.

Dr. Johnson was explaining a new program for the Valley's pregnant students, both married and unmarried.

At present, the women are classified as "handicapped students." Some receive special instruction at home. Some are still going to their regular high school. Almost half are truant.

Most of the mothers - to - be are 14 or 15 years old and unmarried, according to a report prepared for Tuesday night's Livermore Unified School District meeting where the proposal was first explained in detail. Approved by that board, the program outline will now be presented to the Amador High School District board of trustees and, if approved there, will begin with the spring semester.

The county, under Dr Johnson's Department of Special Education, proposes to run a special class in a leased trailer on the Del Valle High campus in Livermore or in a rented house somewhere. Transportation will be available and there will be no cost to either local school district.

Del Valle Continuation School teacher Helen McNie was at Tuesday's meeting to describe how badly a program was needed in Livermore. Two years ago, she counseled eight pregnant students at Del Valle in group sessions. This year, two of the same girls are pregnant again; one was just married, the other remains unwed.

"They had all the information they needed about contraceptives," Mrs. McNie reported. "They all wanted to get pregnant. Every one of them."

Some, she said, get pregnant to get out of an unhappy home; others to get back at their parents; others, to manipulate a boyfriend into marrying them.

"There's a lot of hostility," she said. "A lot of anger."

According to Livermore's attendance and welfare counselor, Mimi Wellborn, a delivery - room nurse, Mrs. Joann Bervyn, and some Horizons counseling interns have volunteered to work with the young mothers in the new program.

The special classes would concentrate on keeping the young women up with their regular studies. In addition, an important facet would be nutritional and health counseling, so the students would know how to eat well to maintain their own health and the health of their babies and so they would understand the hazards of smoking and taking drugs during pregnancy.

They would receive information about how to be a good parent, how to make use of county resources such as free clinics and how to continue their planned careers with the added burden of a child to consider.

Graduation from high school and giving birth to healthy infants would be two worthy goals for the new program, suggested Mrs. Wellborn.

As the written proposal puts it: "The educational program would be designed to maximize probability of high - school graduation in terms of completing graduation requirements on time and also to insure that each girl is helped to understand and deal with physiological and psychological needs for herself and her child during pregnancy and immediately thereafter."

Bond sale today to finance Foothill High construction

PLEASANTON — At approximately 10 this morning the County Board of Supervisors will put $2.57 million in Amador Valley Joint High School District bonds up for sale and shortly thereafter make an award.

award.

The bonds are what remains of a $3 million bond issue passed almost six years ago. The bulk of the issue will go towards second phase construction at Foothill High School.

When Amador Valley district trustees meet in special session this evening they likely will learn the good news (of the bond sale at something less than 7 per cent interest). The gathering is also to receive an update on plans for phase two construction and expenditures of bond monies.

Trustees convene at 6 p.m. in the District Educational Center board room, 123 Main St.

Sale of the bonds is necessary for expansion of Foothill High. Next September the school will add a third class and enrollment is expected to increase from the present 650 to approximately 1,000.

Three buildings are to be built during the second increment of construction.

District officials are confident that the bonds will bring bids with interest rates of 6.6 or 6.7 per cent.

Last March, the district, through its bond consultants Stone and Youngberg, was forced to withdraw the bonds as an "untavorable market" made it impossible to offer them at 5 per cent.

In November the district went to the voters with a bond interest update measure, seeking approval to offer the bonds for a maximum 7 per cent interest rate.

Following a successful sale, the district would print the bonds and they would be exchanged for the $2.57 million on Feb. 18.

According to Doug Rose, Assistant Superintendent for Business Services, the interest index has been at 6.6 or 6.7 per cent the last couple weeks.

Bids are made by brokerage houses and banks. Stone and Youngberg put together 200 brochures on the Amador bonds and sent them to 200 potential buyers.

The board will also review bids made on the Foothill project and consider alternate bids. Armand Construction Co. of San Jose was low bidder at $1,916,000.

Apperson dude ranch to go before regional board

The Regional Water Quality Control Board is re-examining the Diamond A Ranch proposal in a move that could construct a serious stumbling block for the controversial proposal.

The board, by order of the State Water Resources Control Board, will examine late this spring the environmental impact statement developed for the Sunol ranch owned by William Apperson of Pleasanton.

Should the report indicate the proposed sewage treatment plant to be constructed as part of the project could harm the environment, the board could deny its approval for the construction.

The environmental impact statement will be examined by the board with an eye toward the effect of sewage discharge on the surroundings.

If the board finds effluent disposal will adversely effect the environment, officials could deny the discharge permits.

That move could force Apperson to find a more unconventional method of effluent disposal.

SWRCB attorney William Attwater said the board could only prohibit discharge — not the project.

Some may find it "curious" that the water boards along with superviors and planning commissioners, should act on the environmental impact report.

But the California Environmental Quality Act provides for all agencies to take those steps necessary to preserve and enhance the environment, he said.

The act forces governmental agencies to look at projects with a wider perspective, he added.

The Diamond A Ranch, proposed for some 2600 acres near Sunol Regional Park, is planned to include guest cottages, a health spa, equestrian center, tennis courts, swimming pools, a heliport and a firehouse.

The Sierra Club and League of Women Voters have filed a suit seeking to halt construction of the ranch.

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors has already approved the project.

PCP blamed for Dublin teenager's death

By PAT KENNEDY

DUBLIN — Denise locked her little brother, Terry, out of the house so he wouldn't have to see.

She went into her pretty, blue - carpeted bedroom and held the .38 caliber gun at arm's length, pointing towards her head.

The first four shots tore gaping holes in the wall that separated her bedroom from the dining room.

The fifth shot found its mark.

Denise Fairman Gaschk was under a eucalyptus tree in Pleasanton Memorial Gardens.

Denise's parents, Laura and Mel Gaschk, believe their 17 - year - old daughter's suicide was a direct result of smoking "Crystal" or "KJ." Those are two of the many street names for an animal tranquilizer chemically known as phencycladine or PCP.

The warning has been out for years that PCP is a deadly drug. But an uncounted, large number of Valley teen - agers are still using it, sprinkling it on marijuana or parsley and puffing it for a drunken, elated, hallucinatory high.

Unlike the relatively mild, usually mellow effect of marijuana, PCP produces a powerful "drug trip" complete with distortions of reality. Feelings of weightlessness, changing body size and detachment from one's surroundings are some of the effects noted in drug studies. (A complete pamphlet on the drug is available from Hotline Help Center, 4361 Railroad Ave., Pleasanton.)

There can also be nausea, especially if the crystal is sprinkled over parsley, says Tom Muir, a Hotline counselor.

Observers say PCP users appear in a stupor, unable even to walk around sometimes. Effects are said to wear off in one to four hours, unlike those of an LSD or mescaline trip.

One big danger in PCP use is, the user may not be prepared for such a strong drug experience. (Sometimes they smoke a PCP - loaded joint at a party, thinking it's just marijuana.)

The next step may be panic — a panic heightened by the drug.

The excitation caused by a high dose of PCP can be overcome by the same drugs used to treat LSD and mescaline intoxication — chloropromazine and phenobarbitol.

The danger lies in the fact that both these drugs are tranquilizers, like PCP itself (and unlike LSD or mescaline.)

The net result is, the patient may come off the PCP and then be so over - tranquilized he can die.

The danger is compounded by the fact a lot of PCP is passed off by some drug dealers as LSD or mescaline or just extra - strong marijuana. So even doctors can't tell how to treat an overdose.

That is just one of the problems involved in using PCP. Another is the crushing, hysterical depression that can follow a PCP "trip."

Nobody thought Denise Gaschk was about to commit suicide. Usually, a suicidal person threatens to take his life, fantasizes about it, becomes pre - occupied with the idea. All of those are warning signals. None of those were characteristic of Denise, according to her bereaved parents.

The honey - haired 17 - year - old, a senior at Valley High Continuation School, had run into some rocky times, it was true. But the unhappiness was more of her own making than a circumstance she couldn't avoid.

Her family had lived in the same comfortable, beige stucco house on Firebrand Drive for 14 years. Her mother had stayed home for many years, to raise Denise and her older sister, Vickie (now married) and little brother, Terry. When Denise had her first three - day - long bout with hysteria and depression after using PCP, six months ago, her parents took it seriously enough to get professional counseling, not only for the girl, but for the whole family.

Denise had attended the continuation schools for the past year and a half. A concerned principal saw to it the students had almost daily "rap sessions" to talk out their proplems. According to Mrs. Gaschk, thanks to those sessions, student drug abusers at Valley got far more attention than those attending regular sessions at Dublin High School. "It's a wonderful school with a great principal," she declares.

Denise recently lost the job she held as part of her school's work - study program. She began to worry about losing credits and not graduating with her class in June. (She was attending Valley because she refused to take physical education and was informed she couldn't graduate from Dublin High under those circumstances.)

Always a sensitive girl, Denise also took on the worries of all her friends — two girls who were pregnant and couldn't tell their parents, other friends who were in various kinds of trouble.

She dabbled in other kinds of drugs that are easily available among high school students on all of the valley's campuses: amphetamines, tranquilizers, hallucinogens. Her friends were using them; it was the thing to do among certain groups of students.

Monday and Tuesday evenings of last week, Denise smoked crystal, friends told her family later.

Wednesday afternoon she went after the gun her father used in his job as a security guard.

And turned it on herself.

Ironically, her parents, as well as parents of other known student drug abusers in Dublin, thought they had gotten PCP out of the area. Six months ago, after Denise's hysterical episode, they had banded together and spread the word narcotics agents, mothers and fathers were going to stage a concerted effort to catch drug users and dealers.

The trade which was traced from Hayward to Mapes Park in Dublin seemed to have dried up. Then, about two weeks ago, PCP turned up again.

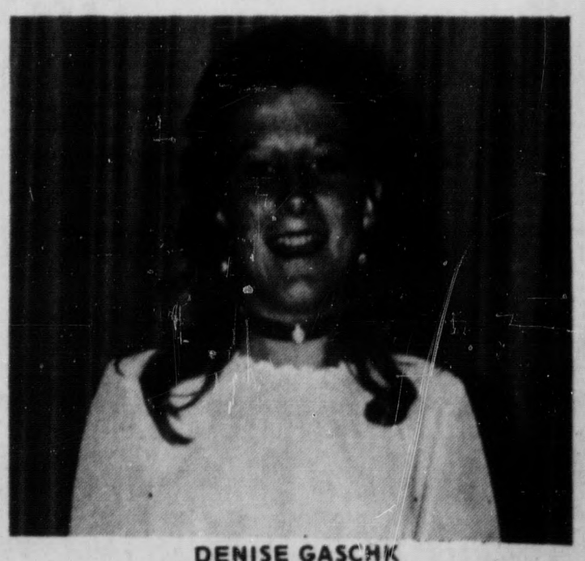
In the shattered Gaschk household, a wall is coming down. It's the wall between the bedroom and the dining room — the one with four bullet blasts in it.

The girl's parents are casting about for a way, any way, to stop other youth from the slow suicide of drug abuse. They have requested that anyone who might have sent flowers for Denise's funeral will instead make a contribution to a Dublin drug center, "CURA," at this address: CURA DETOX CENTER INC., 37437 Glenmoor Drive, Fremont, Calif. 94536, in care of Terry Maisel, Drug Rehabilitation Unit. Donations may be marked with a note that they are in memory of Denise Fairman Gaschk and meant for CURA's Dublin branch located at Camp Parks.

Although it was a painful experience to go over the details of their child's suicide, just five days after the tragedy occurred, Laura and Mel Gaschk contacted the press to request this story.

"It's too late for our daughter," they said yesterday as they looked at the few photographs their daughter had left behind.

"But maybe, for someone else, this warning will come in time."



DENISE GASCHK

Cloudy issues mar 15th district race

After more than five weeks, the 15th Assembly District campaign could perhaps best be summed up with the phrase: "Never have so many said so little about so much."

There is no lack of candidates for the Feb. 4 special election. No matter what your political preference, one of the 15 hopefuls probably will fill the bill.

There is however, a lack of clear-cut issues which makes it difficult for the voters to compare and contrast the candidates. To date, the most exciting campaign "issue" was an abortive attempt to limit campaign spending to $15,000.

That lack of issues has made for a rather low-key campaign that is heavily dependent on individual contacts. Nearly all of the candidates are promoting themselves as "solid", "experienced", "capable" with a proven record of getting things done and are conducting "grass-roots" campaigns which lean heavily on door-to-door canvassing and mailers.

Name recognition and a moderate image appear to be the name of the game.

In addition to the number of candidates and the lack of issues, the Feb. 4 "primary" is also unusual in a number of other respects.

Because there is no incumbent to name an heir apparent and because the Democratic and Republican Central Committees are staying out of this race, no one candidate has emerged as a front runner. Perhaps six of the candidates appear to be pulling ahead, with a week to go, but it is clear this election will go down to the wire.

There are 84,325 registered voters in the 15th Assembly District. Of that total, 51,771 are Democrats, 27,757 are Republicans and about 3,500 either declined to state their party or belong to one of the fringe parties. In this election, however, party allegiance will mean next to nothing.

No one is predicting a heavy turn-out next Tuesday and, historically, special elections — unless they are centered around one burning issue — have pulled less voters than general elections.

The turn-out estimated by the candidates themselves has ranged from a low of 20 percent to an optimistic high of 35 percent.

A low predicted turn-out complicates things for the candidates since they have to contact a proportionately higher number of voters to get the needed results. The fact that voters can cross party lines in this "primary" further complicates the race since Republicans and Democrats are not assured of the usual "regulars" who vote the party ticket.

Even if the turn-out is 35 percent or higher, a candidate who polls around 4,000 or 5,000 votes could be victorious and win a spot on the March run-off ballot.

This campaign is also unusual in that it is the first to be held under the auspices of the Political Reform Act of 1974, which went into effect mid-way through the campaign. The impacts of that initiative, which was passed by the voters last June, have still not been fully assessed.

A neighborhood project

Pleasanton Valley residents in the Woodthrush Park area had raised $1,120 to purchase trees for their park and this past Saturday more than 30 of the residents turned out to help city crews plant the 112 trees.

Stock market scores record

NEW YORK (AP) -- The stock market roared ahead Monday in a binge of buying that produced the heaviest activity in New York Stock Exchange history.

Brokers gave a large part of the credit to falling interest rates and a jubilant welcome on Wall Street to a federal appeals court's ruling in favor of International Business Machines Corp. in an antitrust case.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials jumped 26.05 to 662.66 for its largest gain since it took a 28.39-point leap last Oct. 9, and its eighth biggest ever.

Big Board volume hit 32.13 million shares, shattering the old record of 31.73 million set Aug. 16, 1971.

Gainers overwhelmed losers 1,476 to 189 among the 1,860 issues traded on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index surged 1.28 to 40.12.

One of the most evident forces behind the surge was the slide in interest rates of late which has pushed yields on interest - bearing investments down sharply.

With Treasury bills, for example, now yielding only about 6 per cent, brokers noted, there was a growing tendency among investors to shift funds into stocks in hopes of getting a better return.

Investors also apparently were elated over a federal appeals court's ruling late Friday that overturned a previous decision against IBM in a case brought by Telex Corp. Telex said it would appeal to the Supreme Court.

Neither IBM nor Telex traded Monday on the NYSE. The Securities and Exchange Commission ordered activity in the two issues halted while investors absorbed the news of the court action.

The SEC said individual markets could resume activity in IBM after 2 p.m. Monday at their discretion, but the Big Board followed shortly with an announcement that it would not trade for the rest of the day.

Other big-name growth and blue-chip issues obviously benefited, nevertheless, from the change in the legal fortunes of IBM—a long-time Wall Street favorite.

LAVWMA gets $167,250

A $167,250 federal grant to help finance the Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency disposal study has been announced by Rep. Fortney H. "Pete" Stark.

The grant, amounting to 75 per cent of the $200,000 plus study, will finance a study of alternative disposal methods for valley effluent.

The study will cover the feasability of land disposal with managed water releases and treatment and export of effluent to the bay.

Additional study costs will be borne by the state and by LAVWMA. Each will pay 12.5 per cent of the toal total cost.

The study is being conducted in response to state and federal water pollution requirments that by 1978 will prohibit discharge of valley effluent through the Alameda Creek.

The study is scheduled for completion by 1976.

LAVWMA, a joint powers agency with representatives for Livermore, Pleasanton and Dublin - San Ramon, was formed to coordinate valley effluent treatment and disposal programs.

Officials say the grant is a federal move to help local agencies finance the often expensive studies required by Washington before federal funding is granted.

Valley obituary

Vera Anderson

LIVERMORE — Vera L. Anderson of Livermore died early Friday evening, Jan. 24, 1975, in the Hacienda Convalescent Hospital. She was 79.

A native of Sterling, Ill., she lived in Livermore four years.

She is survived by her son, Leonard Anderson of Pleasanton; daughter, Elaine Feliz of San Jose; two brothers, Charles Langdon of Portland, Oregon and James Langdon of Vancouver, Washington; and three grandchildren, Michael J. Stoddard of San Mateo, Betti Stoddard Smith of New Hampshire and L. Mark Anderson of Pleasanton. She had four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anderson were held Sunday, Jan. 26, at the Graham and Hitch Mortuary Chapel in Pleasanton with the Rev. Robert Vogt officiating. Family graveside memorial services will be conducted at a later time at the Union Cemetery, Bakersfield.

Adria Booker

LIVERMORE — Authoress Adria E. Booker died in her Livermore home Saturday, Jan. 25, 1975, at the age of 88.

Mrs. Booker, a native of Pittsfield, Maine, came to Livermore in 1921. She was the widow of Laverne Booker, Sr., who died in 1965.

Mrs. Booker completed her education at Maine Central Institute and began her literary career when she joined the staff of a newspaper in her native state.

She then began writing short stories as a hobby, having received training from John Gillishaw, former Dean of Harvard College. She was honored in 1941 by being included in the book "Career Women of America." A book of her short stories was published in 1954 and one of her writings is under consideration now by Hollywood to be made into a movie.

Mrs. Booker was a member of the Photoplaywrights League of America and The Literary Guild of America. She assisted in writing about the history of Livermore, a book which is on file at the city library.

On her 87th birthday, Mrs. Booker received a congratulatory greeting from then-President Richard Nixon. She also had a corresponding friendship with TV and singing star Jim Nabors and over the years received many personal letters and several autographed pictures from him.

Mrs. Booker is survived by her son, Laverne Booker, Jr. of Livermore; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma Plain of El Sobrante; Mrs. Genevieve Bako of Richmond, and Mrs. Hazel Minoggio of Albany.

She also leaves 21 grandchildren, 28 great, grandchildren and 5 great - great - grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. in the Chapel of Callaghan Mortuary, 3833 East Ave., Livermore. Interment will be in Memory Gardens Cemetery, Livermore.

Friends may call at the mortuary.

Supervisors to discuss court consolidation

OAKLAND—The Alameda County Board of Supervisors meet today at 9 a.m. to consider methods of consolidation of the Pleasanton - Livermore Judicial District.

Supervisors will meet on the fifth floor of the Alameda County Administration Building, 1211 Oak St.

Officials will be asked to adopt a report calling for temporary relocation of the Pleasanton facililty in the Livermcre court pending construction of the new court building scheduled within five years.

The board will determine that site within a month.

The temporary measure will save the county money and judicial time, assistant county administrator William Davis recommends.

Supervisors in other action today are slated to approve expenditure of some $50,000 as part of the court costs in the case of Joseph Remiro and Russell Little.

The expenditure, part of the estimated $650,000 trial, is mandated by state law when court cases are granted a change of venue.

The writ was granted in August of 1974 when the defendants were transferred to Sacramento for trial by the state appelate court.

Little and Remiro are charged with the murder of Oakland schools superintendent Marcus Foster.

Supervisors will also open bids for sale of some $2,570,000 in Amador Valley Joint Union High School District 1975 bonds.

Pleasanton menus set

Students in the Pleasanton Joint School District who have a "broken-heart" on their menu, should take it to their school cafeteria on Tuesday, Feb. 11 for a special treat.

Menus for the week of Feb. 3 are:

Monday - Toasted cheese sandwich, vegetable soup, pick-up sticks, peach slices, peanut butter cookie, milk.

Tuesday - Hamburger, parsley potatoes, fixin' salad, pick-up sticks, orange delight, milk.

Wednesday -Corn dog on-a-stick, chili beans, garden salad, homemade roll, apple crunch, milk.

Thursday - Fish sticks, tator tots, green beans, corn bread, surprise dessert, chocolate milk.

Friday - Pizza with meat and cheese, vegetable, celery stick with peanut butter, chocolate pudding, milk.

Math students off to workshop

PLEASANTON — Twenty seventh grade students from Harvest Park School will be among 1,600 fifth through eighth grade students attending an annual mathematics workshop Wednesday.

Two of the Harvest Park students, Ronald Jones and Rick Lund, will make a presentation on "Ways of Checking Computations."

Mrs. Betty Kreutzer is the group's teacher.

The conference is sponsored by the Alameda-Contra Costa County Math Educators and is being held at Laney College in Oakland.

$1,500 damage in kitchen fire

DUBLIN — A total of $1,500 damage was sustained by the Nicholas Grover residence, No. 9 Matarie Court, following a kitchen fire Sunday at 8:27 p.m., according to the VCSD Fire Department.

The fire started on the stove and involved the cabinets above.

If Mori or LeClaire wins, council can fill vacancy

PLEASANTON — If Either Mayor Floyd Mori or Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire is elected to the assembly, the Pleasanton City Council will have the option of appointing someone to fill the vacancy or of calling a special election.

The two council members are among 15 candidates who are vying for the 15th Assembly District vacancy created when Carlos Bee died suddenly in late November.

Unless one candidate receives more than 50 percent of the vote in the Feb. 4 special election, a run-off election will be held March 4 among the top vote getters in each party. Both LeClaire and Mori are Democrats.

If one of them is elected, the council must appoint someone within 30 days, according to the election code, or a special election will automatically be held. The cost of a special election would be "close to $10,000," according to City Manager Bill Edgar.

Barte case postponed

OAKLAND — The arraignment of Helga A. Barte was continued to Feb. 6 Monday as Alameda County Superior Court Judge Lionel J. Wilson appointed a county public defender to represent the Dublin woman.

Barte is accused in an Alameda County Grand Jury is indicted on charges of killing her two small children Dec. 6 in her Dublin home.

The court has earlier postponed court hearings pending investigation of the German-born housewive's financial assets.

New Year's is a family affair for local Chinese-Americans

By EDNA WEHRSDORFER

Firecrackers, dragon dances, lion parades! These are the Westerner's impression of the Chinese New Year.

But while all play a part in the nearly two-week-long celebration, New Year's Day starts off on a quieter note.

Livermore's Amy Gee, like many American Chinese, still observes some of the traditions. And, like many of her cultural background, Amy devotes the little free time she has after work to lengthy festivity preparations.

Amy is the owner of Bazaar Canton, and also teaches Chinese cooking. The Year of the Hare begins Tuesday, Feb. 11. But the colorful public festivities don't begin until Feb. 15. Between the two dates there is a time of quiet family obervance — a time for visiting friends and relatives. A time for reflection.

On New Year's Eve, Mrs. Gee prepares the traditional vegetarian dish for the next day.

"On that day we never eat any living thing. It's a Chinese tradition."

The dish is made from many dried vegetables, including ginkgo nuts, tiger lily buds, mushrooms, cloud ears (dried black fungus), chestnuts and bean curd. To these are added green onions and bok choy, a close relative of Chinese cabbage.

New Year's Day begins with the children's happy, noisy greeting to their parents: "Gung hay fat choy!" (May you prosper!)

The children are then given "li shee," or lucky money contained in red paper envelopes.

Traditionally the day is spent with the family or visiting close relatives. Many bring a gift of fruit. Orange tangerines with bright green leaves still attached to the stems are popular. Li shee in envelopes is given to older members of the family as well as the children.

It will be a traditional New Year's Day for Amy Gee.

Flowers play a part in the day, forecasting spring and good fortune. A blossom opening on New Year's Day fortells a prosperous year. Colorful plum blossoms are a favorite home decoration.

In olden times all debts had to be paid before the new year dawned. Now the tradition is no longer honored, except by some of the older generation.

On Feb. 15 public festivities begin. Many local Chinese Americans go into San Francisco to watch the colorful revelry.

The nine day festival begins with the annual Miss Chinatown USA pageantry, and climaxes in the Golden Dragon parade on the night of Feb. 22.

Between these two events there are lion dances, a carnival in Portsmouth Square, walking tours of Chinatown. Chinese opera, folk dancing' music and films, special exhibits and demonstrations of every description.

While the Western visitors may try some of the fabulous foods in a restaurant, Chinese Americans are more likely to attend a family association banquet. This is a meeting for all people with the same last name.

During the many-course meal, seafood, poultry, beef and pork dishes are represented.

"The specialties depend on the part of China your family came from," Mrs. Gee explains. "It's cold in Northern China, so on of the traditional dishes is a firepot."

"To chicken broth you add easy cooking things: chicken, shrimp, lamb, fish, fresh bean cake, spinach and bean threads — a noddle made from Mung beans."

While desserts are not part of a true Chinese meal, New Year's Day has its traditional pastry, a form of Chinese doughnut. Deep-fried, with a filling, it is a doughnut in name only.

The sweet-filled variety is handball size, and the filling is made made of sweet rice flour stuffed with sesame seed, raw of roasted peanuts, winter melon and shredded coconut.

A crescent-shaped meat variety holds a filling of seasoned pork and shrimp.

In China and in large Chinese communities, New Year's Day remains the year's biggest holiday.

Year of the Hare heralds pervasive female influence

Are you a Hare person? Were you born in 1891, 1903, 1915, 1927, 1939, 1951 or 1963? If so, this is your year!

According to ancient Chinese belief the astrological signs people are born under endow them with certain characteristics

February 11 marks the Chinese New Year. It is the lunar year 4673 and the Year of the Hare. In Chinese lore, he is destined to overtake the tiger every 12 years.

It's s sign especially appropriate for International Women's Year. Women will take a giant leap forward because the hare partakes of the "yin," or gentle female infiuence as opposed to the aggressive "yang" masculinity exerted by the outgoing tiger.

The rabbit is the most benign of the 12 supernatural beasts which control China's ancient system of chronology. Others in the zodiacal hierarchy are the dragon, serpent, horse, ram, monkey, rooster, dog, boar, rat, ox and tiger. They are honored consecutively during the course of a 12-year lunar calendar cycle.

The docility of the hare bodes well for detente. Politically the world will take a tamer turn and hostilities will die down during Toe Nien (Hare Year).

Still, fortunetellers caution us to approach undertakings with Toe-like timidity during 1975.

In art, the moon hare is always shown with a mortar and pestle, patiently pounding the pill of immortality. The outlook is encouraging for plodders and oldsters.

Individuals born under this sign are talented, charming and articulate. Though even-tempered, they are subject to melancholia. Rabbitarians are uncommonly lucky. They have an aptitude for music and linguistics and a flair for business, statesmanship and the arts.

The Hare family includes literary greats, John Keats, Thomas Carlyle, John Galsworthy, Henry James, Stendhal, Walt Whitman, Evelyn Waugh and Arthur Miller. Theater celebrities born in the Year of the Hare include Ingrid Bergman, Beatrice Lillie, Orson Welles, W.C.Fields, Ethel Barrymore and Ali McGraw.

Hare-brained as it sounds, Joseph Stalin and Leon Trotsky belong to the same breed.

As a creature the hare is most closely identified with the moon, an excellent omen. The hare reached that high station through an act of supreme self-sacrifice.

An early legend carried from India to China tells that Buddha visited a forest glade in the guise of a tired and hungry holy man. The animals who dwelled there begged him to remain, and each according to its means, brought him food.

When the hare's turn came, he approached empty-handed and said humbly, "Master, I who have grown up in the forest, nourished by the grass and herbs, have nothing to offer thee but myself. Grant us the honor of resting in this place and vouchsafe me the favor of feeding upon my flesh."

Before leaping into a flaming pyre, the hare combed all of the insects from his fur saying, "My body I may sacrifice for the holy one but your lives I have no right to take."

Deeply moved by the hare's humility and compassion, Buddha decreed that his image should adorn the moon as a shining example for all time.

For the Japanese this is also the year of the hare. While still honoring the astrological animals, their calendar is more synchronized with the Western world's. Japan celebrated the beginning of the year 2635 on Jan. 1, 1975.

Audition for Twin Valley folk concert

Folk artists in the valley are urged to audition for a spot in the Twin Valley Counseling Service's second annual Spring Folk Concert.

Proceeds from the performance, scheduled for Friday evening, April 11, will provide funds to assist valley families who cannot bear the full cost of needed counseling service.

The 1974 concert raised more than $600. The Counseling Service Advisory Board, under the chairmanship of Dr. Geraldine Donaldson, hopes to double that amount this spring.

Folk talent, singles or groups, old or young, of whatever persuasion, may phone co-producers Jon Pallitto (443-5587) or Sally Brown Feinberg (447-9344) to arrange for an audition.

Ballet benefit to equip auditorium

The San Ramon Concert Ballet will appear in two performances at California High School auditorium in San Ramon, Sunday, Feb. 2 at 2:30 p.m. and Friday, Feb 7 at 8 p.m.

All proceeds from the performances will help in the purchase of auditorium equipment for the new high school.

The Concert Ballet, comprised of twelve dancers ranging in age from 14 to 20, was featured in Livermore's Festival '74 and has performed several times at Chabot College in Hayward.

The company's Cal High concert, under the direction of Joan Winton, will premiere works in classical and semi-classical ballet, and modern jazz.

Tickets at $1.50 for adults and $1 for students may be purchased at the door or in advance by calling 837-9759. Special rates are available to groups of 10 or more.

Q. What Is Whiplash and What Causes It

A. Trauma is by far the most common cause of acute cervical strain (Whiplash). The trauma may consist of a blow to the head which causes sudden hyperpositioning of the cervical spine (neck). Loss of balance may cause a sudden twisting movement of the neck as part of the labryinthine righting reaction in a reflex effort to regain equilibrium. Such an involuntary reflex movement of the neck occurs before the cervical muscles have had time to establish a protective fixation, causing the cervical ligaments and muscles to be strained. A large number of whiplash accidents occur when the car occupied by the patient is struck forcibly from behind or on the side by a second vehicle.

The most striking and characteristic feature of a whiplash is the progressive worsening of symptoms, which are: Headaches, neck pains, muscle spasms, burning sensation in injured area, pain radiating from neck in shoulders and arms, mid-back pain, low back pain. You may also have feeling of dizziness and nausea. As the condition progresses, you may have loss of motion of the spinal joints, extreme muscle weakness and inability to perform usual physical duties at work and in the home which may last for the remainder of your life.

X-ray findings of the spine taken months after the whiplash injury shows calcium deposits in the ligaments, bones and joints known as traumatic arthritis. If you have been involved in an auto collision, have your neck and back examined and treated immediately by a doctor of Chiropractic. Early treatment may save you from a life time of pain and suffering.

DEPRESSION ART "FOUND"

Public Offered 1937 U.S. Gov't Art Prints

A series of rare coincidences has led to the historic discovery of several thousand sets of full color antique art prints that were "lost since 1937." They are now being offered to the American public.

Eleanor Roosevelt

Back in 1937, immediately following the depression years, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and a select group of a dozen nationally prominent people formed a voluntary national committee for art appreciation to create an art program that would give the public a well-needed moral lift. It was the committee's decision to select the world's most famous paintings from the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th centuries - the best paintings of Matisse, Van Gogh, Gainsborough, Picasso, Gauguin, Titian, etc., and to reproduce them in full color as perfectly as humanly possible and make them available to the public at a price within the reach of nearly everyone.

Abandoned In 1937

For some unknown reason, after a quantity of these beautiful reproductions were made, the entire project was abandoned and this collection of perfect reproductions was stored in a Brooklyn warehouse, where they remained undisturbed since 1937.

The lost collection was "rediscovered" and leading lithographers and art critics agree that the subject matter and quality of detail and color reproduction is incredibly accurate. Over $500,000.00 had been spent to make finely engraved glass printing plates.

These authentic original 1937 prints are literally collectors' items and have been appraised by the American Appraisers Assoc. at $7.00 each print. Once they have been sold, there will be no more available. A truly excellent art "investment" that makes a fabulous gift.

Available to Public

Now, after 38 years these full color 11"x14" (ave. size) prints are finally available to the public at $19.95 for a collection of 18 prints. Send cash, check or money order to: U.S. Surplus, Dept. G46, 18584 Ventura Bl. Tarzana, Ca. 91356. Full GUARANTEED. Certificate of authenticity given with each set. Mastercharge and BankAmericard OK (give card number.)

LLL donates funds to Buenas Vidas

The Livermore youth ranch, Buenas Vidas Ranch, was the largest single beneficiary of the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory HOME Committee.

HOME, which distributes money for charitable purposes that has been collected from Lab employes, gave the largest portion of its funds to the United Bay Area Crusade but did send out some $21,000 in individual grants.

Buenas Vidas Ranch received $2,092, while the Livermore , Amador Valley Emergency Fund Center was given $1,681. The Good Samaritan Center received $1,226 and the Twin Valley Counseling Service and the Dublin Hotline each got $840.

Other local agencies who were given money included the Student Educational Loan Fund($420), St Michael's - St. Vincent's DePaul Society($560), the Nursery School Scholarship Fund($840) and Connection($140).

Some debate on SRV plan

Initial proposals for a San Ramon Valley general plan, now being prepared, show much of the valley left as it is.

The San Ramon Valley general plan review committee, sees areas of contention near San Ramon and in Danville.

The northern and southern sections of Alamo, it was decided, are established areas that should remain in essentially the same use. The area is predominately low density with single family homes dominating.

Some debate was raised by a suggestion that higher density areas be introduced to Alamo, but most committee members felt existing uses should be preserved.

Debate arose as to whether or not more open space should be set aside on ridges both west and east of San Ramon.

The committee elected to study the matter further, suggested that Bolinger Canyon should be left open space. The committee also raised questions regarding land use on low ridges east of San Ramon.

Some committee members felt the ridges should be developed with planned unit developments, while others argued for preservation of open space and the continued maintenance of agricultural preserves.

The downtown sections of San Ramon, it was felt, are basically controlled by existing uses or by approved permits for construction.

The same held true for Danville, which has an established commercial center and low density single family dwellings spreading from the business core.

Several committee members argued that commercial development should be prevented from locating east of Highway 680, while others suggested that small "convenience" shopping areas should exist in the eastern regions to serve neighborhoods.

The committee finally seemed in agreement, however, that the general plan shouldn't address itself to small "convenience" centers, since they could be approved by the county in the future when applications are received.

One committeeman recommended that a junior college be established east of Highway 680 near Danville and that the general plan contain a suitable site for consideration.

He said the commercial area of Danville is established and that it should be developed within its present boundaries.

Overall, the committee reviewed the valley for the first time with the goal of establishing fixed land use recommendations.

County officials attending the meeting said they would return to the committee at its next meeting with more detailed maps showing committee input.

The committee will finalize this year land use proposals for the valley and recommendations will be forwarded to the county planning commission for action.

Walnut Grove: From pizza to playgrounds

By AL FISCHER

PLEASANTON — Walnut Grove School parents and teachers are going to try and parley pizza into a more adventuresome playground.

From an idea stirred by slides shown by the county's coordinator for Early Childhood Education has come the initial building phase of the school's "Adventure Playground."

"We know that there is a direct relationship between children's play and learning," notes Suzie Rhudy of the parents group. "With this in mind we are planning to provide responsive materials and environments on our playground which nurture the developmental learning process."

The slides presented by ECE coordinator Bill Baker, at the behest of Walnut Grove principal Tony Huff, led to formation of a parents-teachers committee to put the project together.

Committee members include Huff, vice - principal Tom Ingham, teachers Pete Arbogast, Marilyn Geweke and Jim Kenrick, Phyllis Buonsante, PTA chairman, and Parents Jim Wulfer dingen, Rick Barrieum, Nancy Hawtrey, Pat Knapp, Bev Kulink, Diane Larson, Brenda Mock, and Dave Scheib.

The committee found that the "adventure playground" needed such materials as railroad ties, electric wire spools, cement tubes, gravel and dirt hills to make it possible for climbing, jumping, going up and down and through. "Plus," says Mrs. Rhudy, "we needed trees and shrubs to add interest, beauty and comfort."

Utilizing the design talents of Wulferdingen, who created the theater in one of the multi - age pods, the group has come up with a guideline for the overall area to be developed.

With the move from planning to development, more and more parents, teachers and students have come forth to shovel, hoe and trundle about the gravel, logs and pipes called for in the plans.

The materials, for the most part, have come about through contacts made by parents and teachers, plus those who have heard of the ambitious project and donated necessary items. They have come from Silva Pipe in Hayward, PG&E, Navlet's Nursery and Redgewicke Construction.

And the pizza?

That'll be Thursday, Feb. 6 at Straw Hat Pizza, Valley and Hopyard in Pleasanton, from 5 to 8:30 P.m. It'll be "Family Night" and 45 per cent of all money taken in during those hours will be donated to the Walnut Grove PTA. Members of the PTA and teachers will be staffing the restaurant that night.

PARENTS, CHILDREN AND TEACHERS ARE MAKING IT A COOPERATIVE EFFORT

When finished, area at Walnut Grove School will be dubbed "Adventure Playground."

Chabot spotlights job opportunities

HAYWARD — Now through March 13, the Chabot College Planning and Development Center will present a series of informative programs on job opportunities, job requirements and educational opportunities.

The programs, which will feature faculty consultants. are for local adults as well as for Chabot students. The Career Center is in Room 146 at the main campus, 25555 Hesperian Blvd., Hayward.

Here is the program schedule:

Jan. 29, Feb. 5, 19, 26, March 5, 12, 6-8 p m : Harold Fraser, business division chairman, discussing accountant, computer programmer, salesperson, secretary, stenographer, real estate broker, business manager and traffic manager.

Jan. 29, Feb. 5,19, 26, March 5, 12: Robert Wood, Public Services Division chairman, on administration of justice, aviation, correctional science, fire science, food services, horticulture, instructional aide, nursery school and recreation.

Jan. 30, Feb. 6, 13, 20, 27, March 6, 13: Dr Glenys Wilson, Health Sciences Division chairman, on nursing, dental and medical assistant, dental hygienist, pharmacy technician, nursing home administration and emergency health care careers.

Regular operating hours for the center are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to noon Saturday, 6 - 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday. No appointment is necessary.

U-line service continues up

Ridership on the "L" lines, linking valley communities with Bay Area Rapid Transit stations at Bay Rapid Transit stations at Bay Fair and Hayward, has risen dramatically over the past three weeks.

A spokesman for BART said the daily counts are higher, on the average, than those for lines linking outlying Contra Costa County communities.

Daily counts, including all those riding "U" route buses between Livermore, Pleasanton, Dublin and the BART stations, were in the 300 to 400 range by mid-December. The count shot up to 1,043 on December 23, a record for the first three weeks of service.

On Dec. 30, 940 used the "U" line buses but the count plummeted to 89 on New Year's Day. The total then shot up to 937 on Jan. 2 and a record, to date, 1,049 on Jan. 3.

For the week of Jan. 6 to 10, the counts were 705, 477, 789, 815 and 841.

Patronage reached its highest level of consistency the third week of January (13-17) with totals of 877, 895, 863, 867 and 844.

Ridership, then, is approaching double what it was the first two weeks of service in December.

HR meeting

Alameda County Bureau

SAN LEANDRO— The Housing Committee of the Alameda County Human Relations Commission will continue its task of preparing housing goals for the county at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 31, at the San Leandro Public Library, 300 Estudillo St.

At the committee's last meeting, a number of concerns were voiced about the disproportionate number of jobs in the North County area (because of the Port of Oakland and Oakland International Airport) despite large population increases in the southern portion of the county.

Assembly

Most candidates will appear Thursday

CANDIDATES' NIGHT

At least 13 of the 15 candidates for the 15th Assembly District will be present Thursday night at the League of Women Voters Candidates' Night. The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of Sonoma School at 543 Sonoma Ave. in Livermore.

Each candidate will be allowed a three-minute presentation followed by a question and answer period.

The candidates who have promised they will attend are: Marc Elliot, George Glavor, Leo Howell, Josh Jelincic, Thomas Kendall, Joyce LeClaire, Lonnie Moore, Floyd Mori, Doug Morrisson, George Oakes, Dick Oliver, Guy Puccio and Bill Vandenburgh

MARC ELLIOT

A reception and open house for Elliot will be held from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Bill Struthers residence, 1342 Fourth St., Livermore. The event will be co-hosted by Struthers, chairman of Republicans for Elliot, and Ed Rundstrom.

DOUGLAS MORRISSON

Morrisson has received the endorsement of the Alameda County Employees' Association, Local 616, S.E.I.U. The 5,000-member organization made the endorsement upon the recommendation of members in the Hayward Area Park and Recreation District, where Morrisson serves on the district board of directors.

BILL VANDENBURGH

Vandenburgh is in agreement with the Valley Community Services District's original decision to apply for an expansion of its sewage treatment plant to 6.5 million gallons a day capacity, rather than the application for an expansion to 8 mgd an Alameda County Superior Court judge ordered them to make..

Vandenburgh believes the larger expansion would "not only be unacceptable to valley residents" but is also "a poor use of public resources in light of the energy problems the nation will be facing for the next several years."

Vandenburgh said he believed Pleasanton's top priority is to phase out its Sunol Boulevard sewage treatment plant into the VCSD facility "with the utmost speed. The 6.5 mgd expansion originally applied for by VCSD," Vandenburgh continued, "would take care of this phase-out and would also allow for new hook-ups by a number of developers."

Vandenburgh has received the endorsement of George "Doby" Forth, retired police chief for the City of Hayward. "I have known Bill Vandenburgh for many years through his involvement in Hayward community affairs," Forth said, "and I know he will be an excellent representative. Bill understands community law enforcement and can be an effective voice in Sacramento."

Junction names youths citizen of the month

LIVERMORE — Every month, Junction Intermediate School students who take time out to assist their fellow students or teachers and who "show respect for school and classroom procedures" become candidates for "Citizen of the Month" honors.

A generous number of students become "Citizens" each month, chosen by their colleagues and teachers by secret ballot.

December's "Citizens" (in the order shown in photograph) are: (front) Toni Groshong, Rich Menise, Donald Smith, Greg Paxiao, Richard Helzer, Joe Louie, Lynette Atkins, Denise Grant, Christine Goots and Vicki Jupina.

(Middle row) Jina Hopper, Linda Larsen, Kirk Baltayo, Jeff Moncada, Nanette Lucido, Roxanne Lum, Ruby Kemp, Orenda Ezell and Dan Pesik.

Weed abate survey hums

The Pleasanton Fire Department is currently conducting a Weed Abatement Program survey of vacant lots the department considers potential fire problems.

All lots listed will be reviewed by City Council on Feb. 10.

Owners of lots listed on the resolution and sustained at the Feb. 28, public hearing will have until Mar. 1 to remove the hazards. Should the owner not remove the hazard, a contractor hired by the city will abate them with the cost added to the owner's tax bill as a lien.

Notices will be sent to all owners listed on the Weed Abatement Resolution. Questions regarding this year's program should be directed to the Fire Prevention Bureau at Main Fire Sataion.

Grant deadline

The deadline for state Occupational and Training Grants is coming up.

Feb. 28 is the last day for filing applications through a local high - school counseling office. The grants are to be used for training in specific occupations with manpnwer shortages. The selected course of study must be at least four months but no more than two years in length and grant money can be used for tuition, fees, books, housing and meals.

Applicants need not be enrolled in school at the time they apply. How much the grant will be depends on needs of the individual and family. If applicants are awarded a grant, they may also apply for other financial assistance.

Counselors at any of the Valley's high schools may be contacted for further information on Occupational Education and Training grants.

Livermore kin is new mother

Former Livermore residents John and Paulette Iserhagen became parents of a baby boy, Jeffrey Paul, born Jan. 6 in Oakdale.

Mrs. Iserhagen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wells of Livermore.

FAMILY CIRCUS

"What kind of a while will we get there in — a little or a long?"

astrograph

by Bernice Bede Osol

For Tuesday, Jan. 28, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Put very little stock in information passed on to you at luncheons or cocktail parties. It's merely colorful conversation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll find yourself in a spot where you'll feel you have to tell a few white lies to cover for shortcomings of a family member.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's kind to compliment another if the remarks are deserved. Don't use flattery today as a tool for ulterior purposes.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Continue to be on guard in any situation that costs you out-of-pocket. First, be sure your dollar will do its full job.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're quite indecisive. You'll look for routes that offer the least resistance, rather than meeting issues head-on.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Avoid a companion who does not operate openly or you'll be in a complicated situation that will be difficult to get out of.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're likely to give too much attention today to nonproductive interests. Attend to duties first, play when they're finished.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll feel you have to put on a front to make a favorable impression. That's your pride speaking, not the real you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're easy prey for a fast-talking purveyor of flamboyant ideas. Be sure you buy the steak not the sizzle.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Do your budget a favor. Don't spend funds earmarked for essentials on items unnecessary for your immediate needs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you make promises to a loved one today, make every effort to see they're fulfilled and not just idle words.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're apt to be a bit lax where self-discipline is required, especially where sensible health habits are concerned.

This will be a busy year for you, career-wise and socially. Sucess comes in an unexpected manner, but not through situations where you have friends as partners.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is another fairly simple Coffin hand. South finds himself in a sound four-spade contract. If all goes well he can discard one potential losing heart on dummy's king of diamonds and ruff his third club to wind up with enough tricks for his contract. But West has been unpleasant enough to open a trump. Now if West started with three trumps and can win the first two club leads, he will lead two more trumps and upset South's applecart.

South sees a way to prevent this if diamonds break 4-3. He starts by cashing his ace of diamonds to get out of dummy's way. Then he leads a low club. West puts up the nine of clubs in order to win the trick and leads back a trump.

If he leads back the seven South must win with dummy's ace and follow in his hand with one of his high trumps. This will make it possible to get to dummy with the six spot later. If he leads low, dummy must win with the six.

Either way, South leads and ruffs a diamond; enters dummy with the last trump; ruffs another diamond and eventually gets two discards on the king and eight.

Tillie Lewis told to cut pollution

Lesher News Bureau

SACRAMENTO — The Central Valley Regional Water Quality Control Board has issued a discharge permit to Tillie Lewis Foods, Inc. of Antioch on a 7-1 vote.

Vice Chairman Clifford Wisdom of Stockton was the sole negative vote on the order which Tillie Lewis says it can't meet until 1977.

This means the matter will go to the California Attorney General's office for disposition.

However, the history of the board shows that it doesn't move as fast in prosecuting noncompliance when firms are obviously trying to meet discharge requirements.

The firm tried unsuccessfully to persuade the board to issue a permit that it could meet so it won't be in violation and face civil fines.

Dr. Jerold Benhke of Chico, board chairman, noted that the board didn't want to do that, especially since a Tillie Lewis competitor, Hickmott Foods Inc., also in Antioch, has already met the board's requirements.

In addition, the chairman noted the permit allows a 50 per cent increase in certain suspended solids over the limits previously set.

Tillie sought a 300 per cent increase through its sanitarian, Robert Bottel.

He told the board the firm can meet all the requirements now, except for suspended solids, which it will meet in 1977.

It will be in compliance then, he says, because it will soon build a $2.6 million secondary treatment plant to supplement the primary plant.

The firm is now operating under a cease and desist order, which has been referred to the Attorney General for possible action.

"That primary system was not the system to do the job, we know now," Bottel says, noting a highly-respected consulting firm recommended that action rather than the "cleaner" secondary treatment plant.

Had the board not issued the permit, the federal government or any citizen could have taken Tillie Lewis to court.

The firm can proceed with its present plans in the face of possible attorney general action, shut down or appeal the action to the state water board or the courts.

Vets to receive higher payments

Some Bay Area veterans will be receiving increases in their monthly Veteran's Administration checks and some will be eligible for automobile grants.

The San Francisco office of the Veteran's Administration says nearly 73,600 veterans and survivors under the jurisdiction of its office will receive 12 per cent increases in their monthly checks beginning Feb. 1.

About 220 severely disabled Cold War veterans will be eligible for $3,300 automobile grants.

The increase and grant is a result of bills signed by President Ford in December. The increase is in addition to the increased G.I. Bill education allowances that became effective Dec. 3.

The 12 per cent increase applies to pensions for veterans who have become disabled from non-service-connected causes and to their widows and children.

How assemblymen voted

Lesher News Bureau

SACRAMENTO — Here is a brief summary of how area legislators voted on key issues during the past week.

Unless otherwise noted, it takes 41 votes for a measure to clear the State Assembly and 21 votes to pass the State Senate.

ASSEMBLY

Assembly Bill 177 by Bill Lockyer, D-Alameda, would end the oil depletion allowance. Passed 57-17.

Ayes — Dan Boatwright, D-Concord, John Knox, D-Richmond, Lockyer, Ken Meade, D-Oakland, John Miller, D-Berkeley, Carmen Perino, D-Stockton and Alfred Siegler, D-Santa Rosa.

Noes — none.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment 15 by Robert Cline, R-Woodland Hills, would lower minimum drinking age to 18 years. Needed 54 votes. Defeated 46-23.

Ayes — Knox, Lockyer, Meade, Miller and Siegler.

Noes — Perino.

Not voting — Boatwright.

Knox wants to end state urban group

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman John Knox, D-Richmond, has introduced a bill to abolish the council on intergovernmental relations.

Under the proposal, the council's functions would be transferred to the office of planning and research.

The reason, according to a Knox spokesman, is that the council isn't needed and has never done a productive job.

It has no staff, the spokesman says, and its work is now carried out by the planning and research office anyway.

"You don't need a 24-member council to meet once a month," the spokesman says, noting that the elimination of the council would save the state $40,000 annually.

The present function of the council is to develop long-range policies to assist state and local agencies in meeting growth and development problems in urban areas and to provide planning assistance to cities, counties and special districts.

On sports

Somewhere down the road

Mike Zampa

Ken Grayam sat back on an auditorium folding chair in his office at Athletics International in Livermore. Really it is a converted snack bar, painted a shade of candy orange that gives you cavities looking at it.

Suddenly from outside came the sounds of horse-play. Grayam slid back the window and peeked out.

"Aubuchon, you dummy, stop flirting with Ruzicka. You two ought to get married."

The offenders laughed, ducked below the pool surface, and trudged on with the morning workout.

Grayam swept his arm across the vista framed by his tiny window. "Never in my entire life have I had as much fun as I have with this," he crowed. "And it's going to be a success."

Grayam is the sole survivor of an eight-man partnership that launched Athletics International Inc. in May of 1973. The partners purchased a dormant swimming-tennis cabana club in Livermore's Greenville North. They promised at a charter signing ceremony.

But only Grayam nurtured the spirit of optimism, accompanied by an outflow of cash, to keep AII afloat. A year ago seven of the partners walked out on Grayam when the call went out for more funds. The second I in the logo had to be erased.

Today Grayam is coach, janitor, and membership salesman for AI, a stumbling business based on the premise people need physical fitness, need it badly enough to pay for it.

The AI concept is unique, Grayam says, to lump all sports under one roof. The club brochure, printed at the cost of a free membership to save capital, boasts swimming, wrestling, gymnastics judo, track and more.

But until now only the swimming has succeeded. Funds and personel just aren't available to assume a broader scope.

Besides coaching the swim team, Grayam instructs in jogging and weight training. He will coach girls' track in the summer, but can't spread himself too much further.

Grayam is barely breaking even. The members' fees almost pay the bills each month, though he may be required to kick in a hundred or two from his bankroll. At first he was contributing as much as $800 a month.

Since the place has opened, Grayam has plowed nearly $10,000 into it. He isn't realizing a return.

By next December he predicts things will pick up. The track and wrestling programs should be going. A recruitment drive should swell the ranks.

What will Grayam do if he fails by the December deadline? "That's impossible," he says. "It has to go. There's a need for it. I'm just trying to build a job around the need."

Grayam is pleased, he says. that the original partnership broke up. There was too much bickering over finance, he said, and too many obstacles to implement new ideas. Actually the partnership is in "limbo." The remaining owner never purchased the shares of the other seven. "Actually," Grayam says, "If I'm making a million, any one of them can come back and say they've got a financial interest in the club."

For the time being he doesn't shrink at the thought. The first million is eons down the road.

Grayam still moans $6,000 in back dues owed by past members who live in nearby Greenville North. He has chased a few into small claims court. The club is such a regular on judge Al Lewis' docket, that he once jokingly suggested that Grayam bring in a batch of cases at once, to save time.

Since he began the operation, Grayam says his interest in the AI concept hasn't been altered. "The realism has changed things considerably though. If there's one thing I've learned, it's that people will do anything to cheat you."

The foundation of Athletics International is the AAU swim team. Right now, when the weather is cold, 40 youngsters compete. During the summer months there are perhaps 100 sunshine patriots.

Michelle Aubuchon is the class competitor, a good bet to qualify for the AAU nationals, according to her coach.

Grayam says he'll soon kickoff a recruiting drive to bolster the team. Success for swimmers like Aubuchon and Dave Ruzicka will help in the sales pitch.

The key note in the club, says Grayam, is that it is individual oriented, not team oriented. The philosophy butts up against prevailing sports attitudes, he says. The Livermore, Pleasanton areas are geared to team sports, from the youth leagues on up. Judo, gymnastics and the rest of the AI itinerary are not steeped in glamour as say, football or baseball.

Grayam is optimistic though, pointing out that local recreation programs in this vicinity are moderately into such sports.

Restating the original AII philosophy, Grayam says he wants to go one step beyond the rec departments. "I want to find the local competitors and see how many want to go beyond that."

Enrollment isn't limited to athletes. Adults who want to firm up, slim down, whatever, can use the weight equipment and register for jogging classes.

Besides his duties as coach, Grayam would like to consider himself a local high priest of fitness.

He's even developing theories that may be utilized in a class for smokers who want to stop.

There are other plausible schemes like that on the drawing board. But they are months, and dollars, from fruition. Right now mere existence is a full time job, with no place for experimentation.

It must all come together in the next 12 months, Grayam says. The AAU teams and the fitness classes must be operating, and stocked with members.

"Right now I'm keeping the doors open," he re-echoes. "But if that's all I can say at the end of 1975, then I've done poorly."

United sweeps Silver State

Ballistic United under-10 faced the stickiest crisis of its soccer season Sunday, but survived to win the first Silver State Soccer Tournament championship in Las Vegas.

Pleasanton teams swept the competition. Ballistic United under-12 and under-14 teams also won championships in the two day event.

Coach Art Dawe's under 10-Uniteds were considered the strongest side in the tournament field. They had to survive an overtime scare however from Concord's C.A.L Wolverines in the semi-finals. The victory kept an outstanding record intact.

Ballistic hasn't lost a game this year to under - 10 competition. It has never allowed more than one goal in regulation play of any game.

United played without four regulars who were unable to make the trip. With permission of tournament officials, the team drafted four Ballistic Vulcan players, Ted Hanson, Doug Croteau, Mel Grisel aund Mark Andrews. All scored goals during the course of the tournament. "They really complemented us well," said Dawe.

Ballistic won the championship game easily at Las Vegas' Ed Fountain Park, defeating the Las Vegas Tigers, 5-0. Andrews' goal and two scores by Peter Leaf were all the cushion Ballistic required.

In the semi-final contest, Croteau scored Ballistic's only regulation goal in the first half. He headed in a corner kick by his Vulcan teammate, Hanson

Concord tied the count in the second half, and could have won but for a fine play by Ballistic goalie Andy Eelsing.

He saved a penalty shot that would have given the Wolverines a 2-1 victory. Eelsing also saved one shot in the penalty kick overtime.

"Eelsing was really cool and calm. He did a great job," Dawe said.

Ballistic won on penalty kicks by Mike Merrill and Steve Rocereto in the overtime.

"The championship contest was calm in comparison, thanks to good midfield play by Ballistic's Karl Kesterke, and fullbacks Scott Mandle and Sean Moore. Matt Duffy also played well.

Ballistic is the favorite in State Cup competition which begins with eliminations Saturday. To prepare for that, Dawe has entered his team in the under-12 Al Caffodio league for stiffer competition.

Ballistic's under-12 team won its second tournament championship of the season Sunday with an 8-1 victory over Las Vegas.

Dave Croteau sparked the United attack with three goals, and Mark Deleray had two. Mark Clay, Todd Moore and Mark Harri all scored one.

Led by Mark Fish's fine play up front, Ballistic under-14 ripped the Fremont Trojans, 6-3, to make a clean sweep of the Silver State tourney.

Fish scored four times for Ballistic, and Robin Dijos planted the other two goals. Dijos also assisted two scores. Kevin Crow, Kirt Ackerman, Chris Henry and Dennis Miller all had one assist.

Goal keeper Scott Kinney registered six saves for the United club, which ran its record to 25-3-2.

Eagles swoop on Road Runners

Steve Collins rifled a pair of second half goals that propelled the St. Michael's Eagles past the Road Runners, 4-2, in Livermore Al Caffodio soccer last weekend.

Roberk Morkowski and Chris Sansone, also scored for the Eagles. Mike Lego scored both Road Runner goals, assisted once by Kenny Burke.

For the Eagles. Scotty Bolf had five saves. The Runners' Jay Baptista recorded 12.

Kyle Dixon, Steve Cohen, Charles D'Ambra, Steve Garcia and Eric Taylor were defensive stars for the winners. It was the Eagles' second straight win.

The Livermore Typhoons thumped the Apollo Minutemen, 3-1, on two Steve Richards goals, and one by Jeff Gil. Goal keeper Vern Fowler protected the Typhoon triumph with eight saves. Adam Martin, Dave Behrin, Marc Stewart, Dave Mavis, Don Gibson and Mark Perjanik were defensive standouts. Mike Walker, Pat Kerrigan and Bruce Monreal also played well.

The Dublin Colts tripped the Livermore Hurricanes, 2-1, on goals by Danny Reyes and David Alvarez. Finley Boag had an assist. Tim Austin scored for the Hurricanes on a Robert Jamieson assist. Scott Cameron had six saves for the winners, and able assistance from Phil Figone, Dave Brownell and Marc Jennings. Monte Humphrey had six saves for the Hurricanes. Marc Harra, John Waldera, Tod Cordill, Doug Lupo, Carl Kessling and Mark Robison all played well.

The Atomic Leptons rode three John Gatrousis goals, and two by Dave Garrison to a 6-1 rout of the Lambdas. Harold Harmon had one save. For the Lambdas, Jim Wright scored once. Mark Long, Greg Mellor and Mike Nutter played well for the winners. For the Lambdas, Shawn Banks had 15 saves in goal.

The Atomic Pions and Nucleons fought to a 2-2 tie. Bob Hunter scored both Pion goals, on assists by Ricky Berg and Joe Moyle. Desmond Elder and Arne Lanto scored for the Nucleons. Ricky Berg and Paul Windergren combined for eight saves in the Pion net. Jeff Azavedo and Mark Wagner played sound defense. Paul Sandoval and Ken O'Dell were Nucleon standouts.

The Livermore Tornadoes tied the San Ramon Crusaders, 3-3, on goals by David Johnson, Brian Steele and David Gutierrez. Gregg Clarke and Mark Giovannetti scored two Crusader goals on penalty shots. Giovanetti added the third score. Mike Brann had 16 saves for Livermore, and Randy Smith, six for San Ramon.

DUBLIN

The Dublin Shamrocks played to a 5-5 tie with the San Spitfires, with Jimmy Grant scoring three goals, and Ed Lopez, two. Rusty Schwartz and Jason Cummings teammed for nine saves in the Shamrock net. John Collins, Mike Diamond and Brian McDonald were standout players.

The Dirt Squirts fell to Fremont, 2-1, receiving one goal by Joe Mossinger on a Pat Henderson assist. Steve Spruitt, the goalie, had 11 saves. Scott Blanton, Dave Badger, Duff Harold and Mike LaViolette all played well.

SAN RAMON

Jeff Andersen got an assist from T.J. Gibbons 10 minutes into the second half and ruffled the cords with the game's only goal to give the San Ramon Tigers a 1-0 victory over the Pleasanton Ballistic Aztecs in the under-8 division.

Halfback David Beeler and goalie Keith Jones anchored the winners' defense, while Steve Colvard, Eric Tom and Matthew Gibson played well offensively for the Tigers.

Ryan Rollins saved 12 in the Aztecs' net in the first half, and Brian Murphy repelled seven in the second period.

In under-10 action, the San Ramon Buccaneers got started early and rolled to a 4-0 win over the Mustang Roans.

Randy Bannister scored two minutes into the match on an assist by Chris plain. Bannister got help from Todd Clarke and hammered another in the 10th minute.

Paul Warren scored unassisted with 15 minutes gone, and Clarke assisted David Hoole for a score eight minutes into the second half.

Fullbacks Greg Corrigan and Jeff Johnson were defensive standouts for the Bucs.

The Dublin Shamrocks handed the San Ramon Spitfires a 5-2 defeat in under-12 play. Jimmy Grant scored three times for the winners, who got good defense from Jimmy Santos and David Snyder.

Paul Diero and Todd Warrington connected for the Spitfires, whose goalie Tod Lemos saved 15.

The San Ramon Crusaders fought the Livermore Tornados to a 3-3 standoff. Greg Clarke and Mark Giovanetti rifled penalty kicks in the 10th and 25th minutes for the Crusaders, and Giovanetti added one with 33 gone, on an assist by Danny Phillips.

Scoring for the Tornados were David Johnson, David Guttierez and Brian Steele. Mike Brann saved seven in goal for the twisters.

Tom Hart tourney opens tomorrow

The Pleasanton Jaycees and Harvest Park School will stage the first Tom Hart 7th and 8th grade Basketball Tournament beginning Wednesday at Harvest Park School and the Alameda County Fairgrounds.

Eight teams are entered in each event. Both tournaments begin with championship games Saturday, Feb. 8. Wednesday,

The tournament is named for Tom Hart, long time Pleasanton school administrator who died recently.

In the seventh grade tournament, Wednesday first round games include, Harvest Park vs Knightsen, 4:30, and Mendenhall vs Donlon, 3:15.

Both are at Harvest Park gym.

In Jan. 31 seventh grade games, Nielsen faces Wells at 3:30, and St. Augustine meets Tracy Elementary, at 4:45.

First round eighth grade games will all be played Thursday. At Harvest Park, the host school faces Wells, 3:30, and Muir faces California, 4:45.

At the Fairgrounds, St. Augustine plays Mendenhall at 9 p.m., and A.B. Morris faces Donlon at 7:45.

President's Tee-Off

William Howard Taft was the first president to play golf and was considered a good player. In August, 1909, the first year of his presidency, a man bet $1,000 that Taft could not play the difficult Myopia Golf Course in Boston within the required 100 strokes. Taft turned in his clubs at 98.

DONS' ED COSTELLO SAILS A PASS DOWNCOURT AGAINST GRANADA
No. 1 Dons take on upset-minded Dublin tonight in EBAL action

Dons atop EB poll, face Dublin tonight

Dublin High has been the perpetrator of lower grade upsets thus far in the EBAL basketball season, but tonight the Gaels are afforded the opportunity to create shock waves all over the Bay Area when they entertain Amador Valley at 7:30.

The Dons were rated number one in the East Bay Prep Cage poll this morning, a mouth watering target for any opponent.

Dublin is first in line for a shot at unseating the EBAL favorites.

Amador won a 12-point decision over Granada in its only appearnace last week. That, coupled with a loss by the East Bay leader, Oakland, allowed the Dons to move into the Poll top spot.

The voting by the East Bay Prep Writers is the latest in a string of successes for Amador in the last two seasons. The team was undefeated in the EBAL last year and won a consolation championship at the Tournament of Champions.

This year Amador won its own tournament title, and so far has defeated three teams, who at one time or another, were rated among the East Bay's top five. They are Fremont, Bishop O'Dowd, and Castlemont.

The poll only underlines the Dons' role as title favorites in the EBAL. It also indicates that Amador may be the team to beat when the North Coast Section holds its first championship tournament at season's end.

All of that will weigh on Dublin tonight, striving for its most noteworthy upset of the year. The Gaels have already knocked off Granada and Livermore, considered outside challengers to Amador.

Dublin bounced the Cowboys Friday night with a balanced scoring attack. Doug Adams scored nine points and Cliff Johnson 12 for the Gaels. They complemented scoring leaders Rayford and Troy Roberson, who had 18 and 16.

Amador is coming off a hard-earned victory over Granada, accomplished despite the Dons' worst shooting night of the year. They hit only 34 per cent from the field.

The Dons towered on the boards however. Jeff Hine and Andy Finn gathered nearly as many rebounds as the entire Granada team. Rob Yackley was just as effective filling in for Finn.

That will be of utmost concern to Dublin, faced with a size disadvantage.

In other EBAL contests tonight, Livermore is at San Ramon, and Monte Vista faces Granada.

76ers outlast Bucks, 34-20

The 76ers played dead in the second half, but had a sufficient first-half cushion to crunch the Bucks, 34.20, in Dublin Youth Basketball Association action last weekend.

After rolling up a 30-6 halftime bulge, the 76ers scored just four points the rest of the way.

Danny Bynum paced a second half Buck comeback, scoring 16 of this team's 20 points.

Phil Hampton had 14 points for the 76ers, Scott Anderson, eight, and Aaron Bodnar and Gary Golisch had six apiece.

The Suns stumbled to a 6-6 first quarter tie with the Lakers, then slammed the door on the opposition for a 32-6 victory. Ken Mathia dominated the boards for the winners, and Robbie Allen and John Hodson scored 10 points a piece. Bill Callender had six. For the Lakers, Matt Fisher scored four.

The Capitols shut out the Sonics in the second and fourth quarters, and rolled up a 32-8 triumph. Dennis Mitchell scored 10 and played well on the boards, and teammate Russell Herrocks added six points and some great defeunse. Donnie Galli had four points for the Sonics.

Managing four fourth-quarter points, the Rockets trimmed the Blazers, 14-12. Vince Orosco and Jeff Gellerman scored four points apiece for the winners, but the Blazers' John Howlett led all scorers with eight. Keith Malatesta had four points.

Balanced scoring sparked the Squires past the Spirits, 36-21. Dave Smith topped the winners with 10 points, while teammates Rick Brower and Pat Murphy had eight each. Toby MacFarlane scored eight points for the Spirits.

Mike Majors' stellar 24-point performance decision over the Nets. The winners outscored the opposition, 22-13 in the middle two quarters to put the contest out of reach. Ed Huska scored 14, and Mike Diamond, 11, for the Nets.

The Tams broke a 4-4 first period deadlock with a 10-4 tear before halftime, and went on to defeat the Pacers, 26-22. Mike Okelberry topped the Tams with eight points. Ed Lopez had six. The Pacers' Ron Washburn led everyone with 10 points.

Surviving a one-point second quarter, the Conquistadors belted the Stars, 38-28. The winners outscored the opposition, 18-6 in the first period, and 12-4 in the third quarter. The Q's Cliff Pope scored 16 points, Keith Jones had eight, and Matt Pulliam, three. David Snyder scored six for the losers. Ed Gonsalves, Mark Castillo, and Bruce Binker all had four points.

Jim Grant scored four points in the fourth period as the Cougars slipped by the Colonials, 21-18. The Cougars enjoyed a 6-2 scoring edge in the fourth quarter that decided the game.

The Colonials went ahead, 16-15 in the third quarter by outscoring the Cougars, 6-0. Grant topped all scorers with eight points. Teammate Scott Tatman had four points, and Jack Stevens, three. Rich Johnson scored six points for the Colonials, and Todd Vitale added four.

Jay McAllister's 13 points rocketed the Bruins past the Bears, 40-27. Tony Boesflug and Ken Brinker scored 10 points each for the winners. For the Bears, Ron LaPerle had 11 points, and Craig Leon, 10.

The Spartans survived being shut out in the fourth quarter, and nipped the Trojans, 25-20. Peter Mangini scored 11 Spartan points, and Paul Mangini, six. Jim Christensen and Craig Bustamente topped the Trojans with seven and six points.

With a devestating second-half explosion, the Cardinals buried the Dons, 57-37. The Cards trailed at halftime, 16-13. They scored 44 points in the second half however to coast home

Ref controversy heats up in WBA

Referees are still topical in Western Basketball Association circles these days, as they have been since the season opened.

The latest ruckus was stirred Saturday night when the TriValley Warriors won a 138-134 free-throw contest over the Martinez Muirs.

In all, 117 foul shots were taken, probably a WBA record, according to Muirs' coach Dale Hall.

"They were afraid the game was going to get away from them if anything happened," Hall said of the officials. "So they called everything. If somebody blinked, they'd call it."

Many of the officials have been troubled in the WBA because of high school or junior college backgrounds. The adjustment to pro contests has overwhelmed some, and rankled most of the WBA coaches. "I think they get the referees from the San Francisco Zoo," one coach cracked early in the year.

"The fans were yelling about it Saturday night," Hall said. "I wouldn't be surprised if none of them ever came back."

Tri-Valley may be wondering if its leading scorer, Willie Wise, is ever coming back.

LOCAL CRIME CONTROL

A Probation Subsidy Program was established to steer some offenders out of the prison system by having the State pay up to $4,000 for every convicted felon placed on probation in lieu of prison.

It wasn't long after probation subsidy was rolling along, that law enforcement started to scream. The same cons were making it in and out of jails like Yo-Yo's on a string, our prison population went down, while our crime rate has been increasing. The Bureau of Criminal Statistics revealed that 72% of probation subsidy wards are re-arrested while still on probation for other crimes already committed.

The Probation Subsidy Program should be repealed and that money turned over to local communities for local crime prevention programs. We need increased police community surveilance, more crime education programs, and more interest in bleeding victims than bleeding hears.

There are some locally established crime prevention programs but these programs have been minimized due to lack of money.

The need for crime prevention programs to protect society, far exceed a program to protect the criminal.

ANNOUNCING CHEVROLET'S DOLLARS & SENSE SALE

$500 REBATE ON ANY NEW 1975 MONZA.
$200 REBATE ON ANY NEW 1975 NOVA.
$200 REBATE ON ANY NEW 1975 VEGA.

It's a great time to make your best deal on a new Chevrolet, during Chevrolet's "Dollars and Sense" Sale. "Dollars" as in "rebate" and "sense" as in "Chevrolet Makes Sense for America".

Here's how it works:

Make your best deal on any new 1975 Nova, Vega or Monza. Buy or lease* from your Chevrolet dealer and take delivery anytime from now through February 28, 1975 and you'll receive a $200-$500 cash rebate from Chevrolet, depending on the Chevrolet you choose. Don't make any deal on any car until you see your Chevy dealer. We've given him and his salesmen special incentives to make it possible for you to get a great deal right now. Get in on a large selection of Novas, Vegas and Monzas during the early stages of this Sale.

*Consult your Chevrolet dealer for full lease details.

NOVA. Real value in compact cars.

Pick the base Nova, Nova Custom, or luxurious new Nova LN. Whichever you decide on, you get a roomy, solidly built, easy-to-drive, easy-to-park compact car. There are two standard Nova engines: an economical six-cylinder or 4.3 litre V8. And the '75 Nova is engineered to cost about $300 less in scheduled maintenance than the '74 (in 50,000 miles of driving).

MONZA 2+2. Motor Trend's 1975 Car of the Year.

The Monza's styling is completely new. The look is European. Yet the inside of this right-sized car is packed with American engineering. And the kind of comfort Americans are used to. Motor Trend judged the Monza 2+2 in five separate categories before naming it this year's Car of the Year.

VEGA. Best overall EPA gas mileage of any 4-cylinder American-built car.

With its available 140-2 engine Vega achieved 28 miles per gallon in the 1975 EPA highway test, and 19 miles per gallon in the city test. But Vega gives you economy plus a lot of choices. Based on 1975 Manufacturers' Suggested Retail Prices, the Vega Hatchback, America's most popular hatchback, is already priced below its nearest competitor. Other Vega models include America's lowest priced wagon, the Vega Notchback, the Notchback LX and the Vega Estate Wagon.

Now that makes sense

MHA names two valley officers

A Dublin man and a Pleasanton woman are among new officers of the Mental Health Association of Alameda County.

Elected at the association's annual meeting last week were Tom Schweser, a former director of the Valley Community Services District (VCSD) and nominee for a Valley Memorial Hospital directorship; and Leona Ward of Pleasanton, a journalist with the Hayward Daily Review and member of the Comprehensive Health Planning Agency of Alameda County. Schweser will serve as one of three vice presidents, Ward as a nominating committee member.

In all, nine directors and three nominating committee members were chosen at the annual meeting, which was held at Spenger's Fish Grotto, Berkeley.

Association members heard Judge Marie Bertillion Collins describe cases of mentally ill persons brought before her in court. She explained the criminal justice system often lacks the resources it needs to insure treatment for the mentally ill offender as well as safety for the public.

Carol Johnston, head of the Parental Stress Service (a Hayward and Berkeley hotline serving Valley as well as north county residents to prevent child abuse) received the association's achievement award for her work.

The Mental Health Association is a non - profit citizens' organization which works towards making sure all Alameda County residents who need mental health services have them available.
